HENRY L. MOFIELD

The above picture was taken a few years ago when he was a student. O, what hast thou to do with cruel Death, Who wast so full of life, or Death with thee, That thou shouldst die before thou hast grown old!

—Longfellow.

No death has occurred in Medina county in many a long day that caused more genuine regret than that of Henry L. Mofield, which occurred at his home near Yancey at 1:00 o'clock Monday afternoon. It was generally known that he was battling for his life with that most insidious of all maladies, typhoid fever, but owing to his robust physique friends were sanguine that he would emerge from the contest triumphant. But to his unbounded energy and his inability to contain himself in the perfect quietude so necessary to successfully combat such a treacherous foe as he was contesting with was partly responsible for his death. All early reports from the sick room, and even up to within a short time of the fatal termination of his illness, were cheerful and seemed to indicate a slow but steady progress toward ultimate recovery, and when the end came, so unexpectedly, it caused a shock to the entire community.

Decedent was born in this county October 29, 1887, consequently he would have reached the age of 29 years on the 29th of this month; he grew to manhood and spent practically his entire life in the immediate vicinity where he fell asleep.

On June 26, 1911, he was married to Miss Mary Viola Nixon, a young lady of the neighborhood; they settled down among their friends and relatives and as a stock-farmer decedent went courageously to work to provide a competency for himself and those dependent upon him, and was succeeding well when the fell destroyer entered the home and left the young wife disconsolate and their little four-year-old, Henry Elroy, without the guiding hand of a father.

When nineteen years of age decedent was converted and united with the Methodist church at Yancey, and throughout his brief life exemplified the true Christian spirit in his daily life. He was kind and sympathetic in his deportment toward the less fortunate, and his passing is regarded as a personal loss to them. "In as much as ye have done unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me," must have been the sweet greeting that welcomed him at the pearly gates of his celestial home.

At the age of 21 years Mr. Mofield joined the Hondo Masonic Lodge, and when a Lodge was organized in his home town—Yancey—he transferred his membership there. His brethren were faithful to him in life, and after the spirit had left its tenement of clay took charge of the body and prepared it for interment. The casket was brought from his home to the Methodist church here, where religious services were conducted, Rev. Mr. Davidson, pastor of the Yancey Methodist church officiating. The ceremonies at the grave were conducted by the Yancey Masonic Lodge, a large number of the members of the Hondo Lodge also being present.

The floral offerings were profuse, and the services were conducted by the Yancey Masonic Lodge, a large number of the members of the Hondo Lodge also being present.

Died.

The Grim Reaper—Death—swooped down in this community Thursday, October 5th, and took from our midst the infant boy of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Haegelin.

The little child was born in the morning and died the same afternoon.

The little body was tenderly laid to rest in the new cemetery Friday, October 6th, a large number of mourning relatives and friends attending the obsequies.

We are glad to report that Mrs. Haegelin is doing as well as could be expected.

In the words of the all-powerful Jesus—"Suffer Little Children to Come Unto Me."

The Anvil Herald joins a host of sorrowing relatives and friends in extending heartfelt condolence to the grief-stricken parents.

Dear People!

We have opened a blacksmith and general repair shop in Schroeder's old shop on the Yancey road, and earnestly request a share of your patronage. We would like for you to give us a trial, anyway, and if we can't please you we won't charge you a cent.

We are especially prepared to do automobile repairing and painting, also wagon and buggy repair work. We claim, and want to prove to your satisfaction, that we can shoe horses as good as anybody and better than some.

All we ask is a trial.

REYNOLDS & ROBERTS.

Card of Thanks.

We take this means of expressing our thanks to our relatives and friends for their many kindnesses shown our husband, son and brother during his illness, and their sympathy in our bereavement, and for their many beautiful floral offerings.

Endorsed at Home.

Such Proof as This Should Convince Any Hondo Citizen.

The public endorsement of a local citizen is the best proof that can be produced. None better, none stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow citizens, addresses his friends and neighbors, you may be sure he is thoroughly convinced or he would not do so. Telling one's experience when it is for the public good is an act of kindness that should be appreciated. The following statement given by a resident of Hondo adds one more to the many cases of Home Endorsement which are being published about Doan's Kidney Pills. Read it.

E. M. James, retired farmer, Hondo, says: "I came down with an attack of kidney trouble. My kidneys were disordered and failed to act properly. The passages of the kidney secretions became far too frequent and I was compelled to arise several times at night on this account. I was bothered constantly. Finally I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Winder's Drug Store and they gave me prompt relief. Two more boxes entirely removed the trouble. I have had no kidney complaint since."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. James had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Practice.

"I have no sympathy with these emancipated women who want to omit the word 'obey' from the marriage service, and put themselves on an equality with men."

"Yes, I believe with you, Mrs. Snap, that a man should be the master in his own house. By the way, my husband was disappointed that yours did not join his poker club. Why didn't he?"

"Oh, he wanted to badly, but I wouldn't let him."

Poor Listener.

"What was the lecturer's subject?" "From the Cradle to the Grave," answered Mr. Dubwaite, who escorted Mrs. Dubwaite to the hall under composition."

"Was the address worth hearing?"

"I can't say. I fell asleep during the 'cradle' part, and when I woke up the lecturer had just spoken the final words in the cemetery."

Woman's Way.

"I must say it's hard to give you up," said the disappointed suitor.

"Well, if it will make the parting any easier for you, I'll introduce you to a friend of mine who will help you to forget me."

"You are very kind."

"But, on second thought, I won't. If she did that I would never forgive her."

KEEPING HIS WORD.

She—My husband promised me that I should never hear a harsh word from him in all of our married life, and I never have.

He—H'm! How long have you been married?

She—Let me see. Just two days and four hours.

No Novelty.

"When I took Mrs. Gaddy out for an automobile ride she was nervous all the time for fear we should strike somebody."

"That was all put on. She's used to running people down."

The Vehicle.

"So the fight was suspended for awhile, you say. Did the defendant go home in the interim?"

"No, sir; he went to the hospital in an ambulance."

Scrambled Rice and Bacon.

Three cupfuls cooked rice, 12 slices of bacon, three eggs, beaten, salt and pepper.

Fry or bake the bacon till crisp; pour off half the fat and put the bacon in a warm place. Mix together the eggs and rice and add salt and pepper as needed. Pour into the hot bacon fat left in the frying pan and scramble. Heap in a mound on a hot platter and surround with the bacon.—Good Housekeeping.

Oxford Salad.

Small leaves of lettuce, three to each guest. On each slice of orange place a strip of canned red sweet pepper. Over all pour a dressing made of the juice from ends of oranges, a little of the pepper liquor and plenty of salt. Very pretty, and so good.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

by MARY GRAHAM BONNER

WEEDS AND FLOWERS.

"The Elves," commenced Daddy while playing in a Garden one morning just at the break of day when all the Flowers were opening their sleepy heads, and the ones which had not been sleeping were looking about them more brightly than ever.

"Good morning, Flowers," said the Elves. "Fine day, nice sun, good warm breeze too—not one of those cross cool little breezes we dislike so much."

Yes, we're sure you think it's a nice day. You must think so because of the best frocks you are wearing today. Such glorious colors! You're all in your best! What's up today, Flowers? A festival of some sort?"

"The Flowers nodded their heads and smiled and waved about in the warm breeze. But the Elves heard some very strange sounds—they did not quite talk like the Flowers—for to the Elves and Fairies, you know, there is a Flower language, and a Flower's way of talking.

"What could these other sounds mean?" they asked each other.

"We'll tell you," said these voices. "We're the Weeds. And some of us are beautiful, but all of us are strong. Yes, we're so strong that no matter how they try to dig us up and throw us away we're up again in no time. We're little fighters—yes, we are. We have our Army headquarters. Indeed we do! And our Generals are very fine. They're the great tall Weeds you often see and my, but it's hard to get them out of the earth. If they are beaten more Generals take their places for the motto of the Weeds is, 'We'll always be strong—there will always be Weeds.'

"And so they chatted on. The Elves were very much interested, but still they couldn't quite see when the Weeds were doing so much talking and bragging how the Flowers could seem so happy.

"So they whispered to the Flowers very gently:

"Tell us, Flowers, why are you so happy?"

"Then in lovely, soft rustling voices they said:

"We are going to have a Book written about us today. Yes, a real Book, and our pictures are going to be painted. We're very proud and happy. We have a Mistress who comes out every morning and most of the day she is with us. She bends over us and digs up the earth around us so it is nice and soft and comfortable. And every evening after Mr. Sun has gone to bed she gives us cool drinks of water.

"It was only yesterday she told us that some Noble Growup was going to write a Book about us and call it 'The Ideal Garden.' We think that ideal means something like perfect—anyway it's something extremely nice. And so she has been making us ready for the Book. Oh, we're very proud indeed."

"But what about the Weeds?" asked the Elves.

"Well," the Flowers continued, "our Mistress says she sometimes can't help thinking many of the Weeds are pretty. And though sometimes they crowd us out of our Homes, and are rather rude, we feel sorry for them. It's hard to always have to fight for a Home instead of being looked after as we are—we have our Homes fixed up for us each day. But then, of course the Book won't say anything about Weeds!"

"The next day again came the Elves to ask the Flowers about the Book.

"Yes," they whispered, "it will be a beautiful Book. The Noble Growup who is to write it talked to our Mistress and told her she was going to say a word for all of us and put in most lovely Pictures—all in the colors we wear."

"And then the queer sounds came again, and the Weeds spoke up:

"Yes, and we're going to have a Chapter about us. We don't quite understand yet what a Chapter is—but it's a good deal—we're sure of that. The Growup told our Mistress that she was going to say something about pretty Weeds in a Garden—that are almost as pretty as Flowers."

"The Weeds were so happy because now they were not only proud of their wonderful Armies but they had been called pretty and were going to be put in a Garden Book."

"Well," said the Elves, "so you are all happy! And we can't help saying ourselves that some of the Weeds in this Garden are pretty—very pretty and we like you all—Flowers and Weeds!"

HAVE YOU WEAK LUNGS?

Do colds settle on your chest or in your bronchial tubes? Do coughs hang on, or are you subject to throat troubles?

Such troubles should have immediate treatment with the strengthening powers of Scott's Emulsion to guard against consumption which so easily follows.

Scott's Emulsion contains pure cod liver oil which peculiarly strengthens the respiratory tract and improves the quality of the blood; the glycerine in it soothes and heals the tender membranes of the throat. Scott's is prescribed by the best specialists. You can get it at any drug store.

Notice.

ARTICLE NO. 644, FINAL CODE OF TEXAS.

"If any person shall suffer any substance, injurious to the health of those who reside in the vicinity, to remain on premises in his possession, he shall be punished by fine not less than $10.00 nor more than $100.00, and each day he permits such substance to remain on the said premises shall constitute a separate offense."

The attention of the public is directed to the above law. A good many people in this community have surface closets on their premises. A surface closet, to be sanitary and to be within the law, must be screened and cleaned out every day. Inasmuch as this community has no scavenger this is impracticable, and the public is hereby notified that pits must be provided at least six feet in depth and kept duly disinfected by use of some suitable disinfectant, such as lime. Owing to the prevalence of Typhoid Fever, Malaria, Dengue, Diphteria, Typhus and Scarlet Fever, I feel it incumbent upon me as County Health Officer of Medina County to see that the said law is strictly enforced. I request the citizenship of Medina county who have the welfare of this community at heart, to assist in placing the community in a sanitary condition.

Good Eye-sight

is essential to health, comfort and appearance. Have you ever noticed a strained look on your face? Usually this comes from eye-strain. More wrinkles are caused by eye-strain than by old age. Headaches caused by eye-strain cannot be cured by medicine, it depends upon optical skill of the optometrist who prescribes the glasses. Having had 16 years experience in Medina County assures you of satisfaction.

FREE! TO OUR CUSTOMERS

FREE!

In appreciation of cash business, we have decided to give to our customers, entirely free of charge, a full line of beautiful gold border decorated chinaware. With every cash purchase and when you have accumulated these coupons to the amount of $5.00, you receive a sealed envelope which contains a ticket good for one piece of chinaware. The ticket also counts for a certain number of points. If the ticket calls for a large piece of chinaware, it will call for a small number of points or if it calls for a small piece of china, then it will call for a large number of points.

Commencing Saturday, Sept. 23rd
Every Alternate Saturday promptly at 3 o'clock

we will present to the person who brings to our store tickets calling for the greatest number of points, a beautiful hand-decorated 7-piece Meat or Game Set.

This most interesting plan of distributing premiums is called the "Fair Play" premium plan and we are sure you will be delighted with the beautiful chinaware you can secure free.

You do not pay any more for the goods you buy from us—we simply divide the profits on CASH BUSINESS.

Compulsory School Attendance.

Following are extracts from the Compulsory School Attendance Law enacted at the last session of the Texas Legislature:

Sec. 71a. Attendance, Requirements and Provisions.—Every child in this state who is eight years and not more than fourteen years old shall be required to attend the public schools in the district of its residence, or in some other district to which it may be transferred, as provided by law, for a period of not less than sixty days for the scholastic year, beginning September 1, 1916, and for a period of not less than eighty days for the scholastic years (year) beginning September 1, 1917, and for the scholastic year 1918-1919, and each scholastic year thereafter a minimum attendance of 100 days shall be required.

Sec. 72a. Exemptions.—The following classes of children are exempt from the requirements of this Act:

(a) Any child in attendance upon a private or parochial school or who is

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one remedied disease that should have been cured in all its stages, and that is the Cataract. Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Cataract being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thus destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving maximum strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

being properly instructed by a private tutor.

Sec. 72c. Any child who is blind, deaf, dumb or feeble-minded, for the instruction of which no adequate provision has been made by the school district.

Sec. 72d. Any child living more than two and one-half miles by direct and traveled road from the nearest public school supported for children of the same race and color of such child, and no free transportation provided.

Sec. 72e. Any child more than twelve years of age who has satisfactorily completed the work of the fourth grade of a standard elementary school of seven grades, and whose services are needed in support of a parent or other person standing in parental relation to the child, may, on presentation of proper evidence to the county superintendent of public instruction, be exempted from further attendance at school.

Sec. 74. Excuses for Absence.—Any child not exempted from the provisions of this Act may be excused for temporary absence due to personal sickness, sickness or death in the family, quarantine, severe storm which has destroyed bridges and made the regular means of travel dangerous, or for unusual causes acceptable to the teacher, principal or superintendent of the school in which said child is enrolled; provided that the excuses are in writing.

Sec. 75. Employment Prohibited.—No child under fourteen years of age not lawfully excused from attendance upon school shall be employed by any one during the school hours in any occupation during the period which the child is required to be in school, as provided in this Act. Any person, firm or corporation found guilty of employing any child or any person inducing any child to remain out of school who is subject to the provisions of this Act shall be fined not to exceed ten dollars for each offense, and each day that said child is employed after due notice is given by any school official that said child cannot be legally employed shall constitute a separate offense.

ing and signed by the parent or guardian of said child; but any case so excused may be investigated by the authorities discharging the duties of attendance officer for the school from which said child is excused.

Sec. 75. Employment Prohibited.—No child under fourteen years of age not lawfully excused from attendance upon school shall be employed by any one during the school hours in any occupation during the period which the child is required to be in school, as provided in this Act. Any person, firm or corporation found guilty of employing any child or any person inducing any child to remain out of school who is subject to the provisions of this Act shall be fined not to exceed ten dollars for each offense, and each day that said child is employed after due notice is given by any school official that said child cannot be legally employed shall constitute a separate offense.

Sec. 80a. Duties of School Superintendents.—It shall be the duty of the county superintendent of public instruction to furnish to the superintendent of schools of each school district in the county, and to the principal of the school in case there be no superintendent, a complete list of all children of scholastic age belonging in said district, as shown by the last scholastic census and the record of transfers to and from said district.

Sec. 81a. Parental Delinquency, Penalties and Truancy.—If any parent or person standing in parental relation to a child within the compulsory school attendance ages who is not properly excused from attendance upon school for some one or more of the exemptions provided in Section 2 of this Act fails to require such child to attend school regularly for such period as is required in Section 1 hereof, it shall be the duty of the attendance officer who has jurisdiction in the territory where said parent or person standing in parental relation resides, to warn such parent or person standing in parental relation, that the provisions of this Act must be immediately complied with, and upon failure of said parent or person standing in parental relation to immediately comply with the provisions of this Act after such warning has been given, the official discharging the duties of the attendance officer shall forthwith file complaint against such parent or person standing in parental relation to said child, which complaint shall be filed in the county court, or in the justice court in the precinct where such parent or guardian resides, and shall diligently prosecute same to its conclusion.

Sec. 72f. A Red Cross Social.

Last Saturday eve a Social Meeting was held at the Sturm Hill School House for the benefit of the Red Cross.

The opening song was sung by Prof. H. H. Saathoff and the young people of the vicinity.

Rev. Aug. Beteit delivered an address in which he spoke of unity in church and school as a necessity to build the character of our youth for the noble deeds which lie before them in life. He also mentioned the suffering of the poor widow and children across the sea that are helpless and forlorn while their supporters have to defend their Fatherland.

Prof. S. H. Saathoff, the esteemed teacher of the Sturm Hill School, did everything in his power to make the evening a success. He spoke on the subject "Service brings Happiness," and showed that by making others happy, we are made happy ourselves.

Mr. George Heyen gave a few points about the land of prosperity in which we dwell and that we should gladly show our thankfulness by lending a helping hand to the suffering.

In between times pretty songs were sung which were enjoyed by all.

Ice cream and soda water were served as refreshments.

A collection was raised by Mrs. Christian Oefinger and Mrs. Paul Oefinger which amounted to $40.

Many thanks to all who contributed and lent a helping hand to relieve the suffering of our kindred across the sea.

God will bless the cheerful giver and his gift.

How Catarrh is Contracted.

Mothers are sometimes so thoughtless as to neglect the colds which their children contract. The inflammation of the mucus membrane, at first acute, becomes chronic and the child has chronic catarrh, a disease that is seldom cured and that may prove a life's burden. Many persons who have this loathsome disease will remember having had frequent colds at the time it was contracted. A little forethought, a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy judiciously used, and all this trouble might have been avoided. Obtainable everywhere.

Name Your Farm

OCCASIONALLY we get a letter from a farmer on stationery on which is printed his own name and the name of his farm. In some cases we find on the margin, briefly stated, what is being made a specialty of on that farm.

This looks like business, and demands attention at once, for it catches the eye.

The editor of your county paper always stands in need of a bushel of potatoes, a sack of water-ground meal, or some such farm product, and would be glad to swap you some nice printed envelopes and paper to match for these things.

It would pay you to do some trading with this man, who is doing a lot in his way to help you, so next time you are in town talk it over with him. Before giving the order talk it over with the wife and family, and decide on an appropriate, catchy name for your farm and then—live up to it.—President Charles S. Barrett in National Field.

ANURIC!

The Newest Discovery in Chemistry.

This is a recent discovery of Doctor Pierce, who is head of the Invalids Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N. Y. Experiments at Dr. Pierce's Hospital for several years proved that there is no other eliminator of uric acid than can be compared to it. For those easily recognized symptoms of inflammation—as backache, scalding urine and frequent urination, as well as sediment in the urine, or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, lumbago, it's simply wonderful how surely "Anuric" acts. The best of results are always obtained in cases of acute rheumatism in the joints, in gravel and gout, and invariably the pains and stiffness which so frequently and persistently accompany the disease rapidly disappear.

Go to your nearest drug store and simply ask for a 50-cent package of "Anuric," which is 37 times more potent than lithia to eradicate uric acid, or even write Dr. Pierce for a large trial package (10c). Obtainable everywhere.

With the average man a cold is a serious matter and should not be trifled with, as some of the most dangerous diseases start with a common cold. ## DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

© MARY GRAHAM BONNER

ROOSTER AND PEACOCK.

What shall the story be about this evening, children?" asked Daddy, as he came into the nursery.

"Oh anything at all, Daddy," said Dick.

"Well, that seems easy enough," said Daddy. "You certainly are not fussy or particular. And, as I haven't told you a story for a long time about the Barnyard Folks, I think it is high time to do so."

"Several days ago Mr. Rooster was walking around and shouting at the top of his voice 'Cock-a-doodle-do,' over and over again. He had a fine red cap on the top of his head and he was just as proud of himself as he could be. Dear me, but he was proud!"

"He strutted about and kept on crowing. The rest of the Barnyard Folks were just the least little bit afraid of Mr. Rooster. He was so very dignified and stylish. At least he always told them he was, and he said so in a tone that made them believe it must be true."

"Was he the only Rooster in the Barnyard, Daddy?" asked Nancy.

"Oh, no, indeed," replied Daddy, "though you would have thought so from the way he acted. But he was the only Rooster they called 'Mr.' The others they called just plain 'Rooster' or 'Red Top' or 'Tuft,' or maybe 'Roostie,' but this one they called Mr. Rooster always."

"As he was crowing and strutting about he happened over by a small pond at the extreme end of the Barnyard. It was just what he had meant to do all the morning, and he hadn't found time to before."

"Ah, I'm a busy old fellow," he said. "I must crow for the delight of all the Barnyard Folks—and if I didn't crow early in the morning I do believe some Grownups would sleep all day! They should appreciate me, though sometimes they're so lazy they think they like that old Sandman creature better. Yes, I have a great deal I must do. But now I can attend to my looks."

"He stood on one side of the pond and looked at his own reflection. After he saw that he was looking well and that his white feathers were spick and span, and his red hat bright and clean, he started back, crowing as he went."

"He used to walk alone you see, for he didn't quite think any of the other Animals were fine enough to walk with him. But on his way back he met Mr. Peacock."

"Good morning, Mr. Peacock," said Mr. Rooster with a special 'crow' of greeting. "How are you? Fine day we're having."

"You Two Mustn't Quarrel," He Said.

"Good day," replied Mr. Peacock. "It seems to me you don't say anything very remarkable for a creature that puts on such airs. Any Animal can talk as wisely as you do. It's just ordinary, every-day conversation."

"I never heard you were so wise either," said Mr. Rooster very rudely.

"I don't have to be wise," said the Peacock. "For I am beautiful. There is no other tail in all the land that is so famous for its beauty as the tail of the Peacock. And the colors of my feathers are wonderful. You know yourself, Mr. Rooster, that when I spread my tail even the Animals can't help admiring me—and as for the People—well, they think they never saw anything like me in all their lives."

"As you can imagine Mr. Rooster and Mr. Peacock had a fine old argument—which was almost a quarrel—for they are both so vain and proud of themselves that each had hard work trying to say more often than the other:

"I'm a finer Animal, I'm a finer Animal," for they got so excited they said the same thing as often and as fast as ever they could.

"Soon came along Grandfather Pig who was feeling quite happy and cheerful in the nice morning Sunshine."

"You two mustn't quarrel," he said. "It's so extremely stupid. You don't feel happy when you argue like that. And it's no fun to stand around—or strut around and keep praising yourself up every minute. Why don't you play or get your breakfast—or do something sensible—each of you?"

"Both the Peacock and the Rooster looked a little ashamed when Grandfather Pig talked to them, and they went away with their heads hanging down when he said, 'Peacock, for all your beauty, you've hideous feet, and Rooster, no one likes to hear you 'cock-a-doodle-do' but yourself!'"

Baby Monoplane.

What is undoubtedly the smallest successful monoplane in the world has recently been constructed by a Californian. In addition to this distinction the machine is almost as unusual in design as it is in size, for it is driven tail first by an ordinary seven horsepower, twin-cylinder motorcycle engine. It weighs, complete with its gasoline tank filled, only 238 pounds, has a wing spread of 18 feet, an overall length of 16 feet, and a supporting area of about 30 square feet. The motor drives a 4½-foot propeller at about 1,400 revolutions a minute, giving the craft a speed of nearly 60 miles an hour. The power plant is placed at the extreme rear of the machine, so that its weight is balanced by that of the pilot who rides several feet ahead of it. The machine has been driven a number of times, and during these flights has remained in the air from 15 minutes to half an hour.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Wrong Stocking Stolen.

On one of the coldest nights this winter Mrs. Annie Dietz of 115 Mechanics street prudently wore woolen sleeping hose when she went to bed. Testifying in court against Michael Arenewich, who was held in $500 bail on the charge of burglary and attempted theft from person, Mrs. Dietz said:

“As I was placing a roll of $400 in my stocking I heard a slight noise, and looking out thought I saw this man stepping back from my bedroom window. The next I knew I was awakened by feeling one of my stockings being pulled off. Before I could turn on a light the intruder jumped through the window and disappeared with my left stocking.”

The chief reason why Arenewich was charged merely with attempted theft was that Mrs. Dietz put the money in her right stocking.—Hartford (Conn.) Dispatch to New York World.

The Man With No Initials.

Playgoers everywhere will regret to hear that fine actor, Mr. Charles Hawtrey, has had heavy financial losses owing to the war.

Mr. Hawtrey can be an humorous off the stage as he is on it. On one occasion he was talking to a friend about peculiar names and initials.

“By the way,” he said, “I have a friend who is in a most unfortunate position. He actually has no initials.” “No initials?” exclaimed his friend in amazement. “Why, how can that be? Hasn’t he got any name?”

“Oh, yes,” answered Mr. Hawtrey with a twinkle in his eye. “But you see, each of his names begins with an aspirate and, being cockney, he always drops his h’s.”—Redman’s.

May Be Valuable Find.

Workmen digging in the bay of Guanabara, at Rio de Janeiro, recently brought up a quantity of pure phosphorus. Acting on the belief that a deposit of value had been tapped, the government was advised of the discovery and it has ordered an investigation to determine the probable size and value of the body of mineral.

After Nov. 30, it will cost you just $70 more to buy a 7-22 Chalmers. But the price of the 5-passenger 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers remains (for the time being) $1090 Detroit.

Until midnight of Nov. 30 you can get a 7-22 Chalmers for $1230 Detroit—a car of rare ability, fascinating in body equipment, and, like a beautiful woman, of exquisite charm.

After that date the price becomes $1350 Detroit—$70 more. The $70 is just a few dollars less than the increase in cost of manufacture of this car since its appearance in June.

To those who have longed for the 5-passenger 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers—and have not yet possessed one, just a word of warning: the price remains unchanged just now—$1090 Detroit; we do not know how long this low price will continue. We reserve the right to increase the price without notice.

Only those who are buying materials such as go into high-grade automobiles can begin to realize the steady, upward trend of the materials market.

Just one condition today prevents a rise in price of the 5-passenger 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers—the fact that these cars are being made on a factory “work order” dating back several months.

Since the “work order” went through materials have jumped in cost again. When the current “work order” is completed and if materials remain at their present level or rise higher, only one course will be possible, an increased price.

Those who have been driving Chalmers cars know how diligent has been the Chalmers effort to set down cars of the quality kind.

They will understand how impossible it would be for Chalmers to dodge the increase-in-materials issue and maintain the prevailing price on the 7-22 Chalmers.

Lower the quality of the Chalmers car? Never. The Chalmers men take great pride, not only in the money the car makes for them, but in the car itself. And pride, as everyone knows, is a thing that can never be compromised.

As long as there's a name “Chalmers”, there will be a quality car, and as long as there's a quality car there'll be a price fixed—not by the Sales Department—but by cost accountants.

And there'll be a fair deal. Chalmers says these two 3400 r. p. m. models will be continued into next season. You can bank on that. So that a Chalmers car you might buy now will be exactly like the one you would buy next spring.

Remember the $70 you can save now by anticipating the rise in price. There's an old Scotch proverb that says “A dollar saved is a dollar earned”. $70 buys a good suit of clothes, a good pair of shoes, a good hat and some good gloves. Also it just about pays your dues at the club for a year.

Or, if it's a 5-passenger 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers you want, our advice is to get one now.

We are not sure the price is going up and we are not sure that it isn't.
